EARTHQUAKE KILLS THREE HUNDRED

As Many More Injured Because of the Shock at Chilpancingo, Mex.—Capitol in Ruins.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

Meager details finally began to arrive here. The telegraph line and apparatus at Chilpancingo were badly damaged, but the employes, all of whom were uninjured, quickly proceeded to erect an improvised telegraph office on the outskirts of the city.

The number of deaths was greater in the parish church than in any single place, as a crowd of worshipers was gathered there for the afternoon service. The solld masonry walls and the roof came toppling down on the worshipers, and many of those within were killed.

It is believed, however, that this is one of the most destructive seismic phenomena that has occurred in Mexico. The greater part of the population of Chilpancingo are now camping out under tents around the town, which is five days' journey from the national capital.

Earthquake shocks were felt in many other cities and towns. In the City of Mexico the earthquake occurred at 5:17 occlock yesterday afternoon, and was of such violence as to shake the most substantial buildings. The Pan-American Congress was in session at the time, and many of the delegates were greatly alarmed. The first movement here was one of trepidation, and was very sharp. It was followed by an easy oscillatory movement, northmortheast to south-southwest. "The second part of the report deals with the general subsidy to all American vessels, steam and sail, except mail steamers. It quotes President Roosevelt's message, showing that the cost of building American ships is greater than the cost of building ahips abroad; that American wages on shipboard are higher, and that the House should remedy these inequalities. Discriminating duties, expect bounties and subsides hased on expert cargoes are in violation of our international obligations, so direct subsidies, it says, is the only practical method. The subsidy proposed is, not a naked bounty, for it is based on public services to be rendered.

BALT LAKES CITY, Jen. 17.—(Exstudies Dispatch.) It was reported here soday that the Ean Pedro road has acquired a right of way into Salt Lake from the west, by the purchase of what is known as the West Bide Rapid Transit Company's franchise.
This latter company is a street-car concern, which has the right to run ofther electric or steam cars. It commanced operations about ten years age, and has never paid. Its owners have simply been holding on for first such an opportunity as is now said to have presented itself.
There is sobody in the city tonight who can talk authoritatively on the matter. While the purchase would give the San Padro read an entrance almost to the very heart of the city, the consideration, it is estimated, would not exceed $25,000. There are no depot facilities attached to the fransit company.

BAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] In secondance with the class announced by General Manager Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific Company, upon his return from the Cast a few days ago, reconstruction work on the line of the Contral Pacific. work on the line of the Central Pacific has been commenced on a very extensive scale. Four contracts have been placed by the company with different contracting florms for reconstruction work east of Reno, and the work will be started just as soon as the contractors can get their men teams and material on the ground. The first of the contracts placed by the company is that awarded to R. J. Kirkpatrick of Kirkpatrick Brox. & Collins of Beatrice.

the contracts placed by the company is that awarded to R. J. Kirkpatrick of Kirkpatrick Bros. & Collins of Beatrice. Neb. Rirkpatrick was the successful bidder for the reconstruction of twenty miles of road from Vists. Nev., eastward. Vista is about twenty-five miles east of Wadsworth.

Immediately east of this piece of track is a stretch of forty-five miles, which will be rebuilt by the E. B. & A. L. Bione Company of Oakland. This is the largest of the four contracts placed by the company, measured in the mileage to be reconstructed. The contracting firm of Corey Bros. of Ogden was given a contract for rebuilding sixtem miles of track just east of the work assigned to the Oakland firm, and Erickson & Patterson of this city, who have done considerable construction work for the Southern Pacific on its Coast Line, proved the successful hidders for the rebuilding of six miles of road in Palisade Cañon.

The four contracts call for the reconstruction of eighty-seven miles of track and involve the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000.

Within a few months, it is understood, contractors will be asked to bid on the construction of the Ogden-Lucin cut-off, which is designed to shorten the Ogden line by 100 miles, and materially reduce grades in Utah and Eastern Nevada.

H. Harriman.

Among other things the ticket auditor will be required to show, in the future, the earnings of every train on the system for every day in the year, with weekly comparisons showing the increase or decrease in the train earnings. D IVAL INTERESTS IN MIGHTY STRUGGLE.

COULD HOLDS OUT FOR LARGE SLICE OF THROUGH TRAFFIC.

Would Result in an Alliance Senator Clark.

BT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M. CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The Record-Hersid tomorrow will say that the Gould and Harriman interests are en-gaged in a struggle for transconti-nental traffic which will test to its ut-most strength the community of in-terests.

able to make firm pledges that rates would be maintained for another month. The fight which the Goulds have begun for recognition as a transcentisental factor through the Ogden gateway is the explanation of the withdraway of the Missouri Pacific from the Colorado and Utah Association, and the refusal of its officials up to date to reënter.

The purpose of the acquisition of the Denver & Rio Grande, and the Rio Grande Western by the Goulds has become plain through the fight now in progress. The situation is this: Through their possession of the Rio Grande roads, the Goulds are laying claim to a large percentage of the through traffic from the coast.

Should the Harriman people refuse to turn over to the Gould connections the amount of traffic the Goulds his they are entitled to, the result will be problematical. Should the Goulds decide to get the amount of traffic the Goulds think they are entitled to, the result will be problematical. Should the Goulds decide to get the amount of traffic the would be delivered to the Missouri Pacific for St. Louis and the east.

It is also understood that a refusal on the part of the Harriman people to accede to the demands of the Goulds would mean an alliance between the Goulds and Senator Clark, who would be able to give the Goulds a Pacific Tos struction is further complicated by the fact that the Northern Pacific interests have announced their intention of building a Portland cut-off from Missouria, Mont., through the Clearwater district, thereby tapping rich territory of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company and the Oregon Short Line. A line from Ogden to a connection with the possibilities of a failure of the Goulds and the Harriman people to agree.

The Missoula cut-off would shorten the Northern Pacific is among the possibilities of a failure of the Goulds and the Harriman people.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Baulke, a cattle dealer of Dawaca, has received advices from English attorneys that he has fallen heir to a fortune of over $1500,000$. The money is half of the estate owned in South Africa by two of Baulke's brothers, the remaining half being left to his father, who resides at Westminster.

The two brothers went to the Transwall seven years ago, and with a small amount of money. In mining speculation they accumulated a large fortune. Before the Boer war broke out tney cashed as much of their property as possible, but lost much during the first part of the conflict. Leaving their money and securities in Cape to the brothers went up the country and raised a company of British sympathisers. placed on record here today, in which

Jane L. Stanford conveys to the board of trustees of Leland Stanford University from $16,090,000 to $12,000,000

This deed carries with it the land heretofore conveyed to the trustees by Leland Stanford, her husband, and herself to the trustees in frust for the

The reason assigned for the new deed is that some question had arisen as to whether the original deed was given to clear away all doubt. Another reason assigned is that there had been a number of deaths in the board, and laws passed affecting the

The formal move by which she will cease to be a New Yorker has already been made, and probably before the week is out all her immense personal property amounting to many millions of dollars, will be out of reach of the Empire State tax men, and subject to the lighter taxation of this State. Mrs. Astor's petition was made to the courts yesterday. With it were others from William C. Shermerhorn, Samuel E. Huntington and Hamilton Fish, all wealthy men of New York City.

The petitions of all four were placed on the docket of the Common Piess division of the Supreme Court. The court convenes for the spring session Monday next, and the judges will immediately pass upon them. As the little State is only too anxious to add to its list of distinguished and wealthy resi-

Mrs. Astor owns valuable property here, and, as is well known, spends a considerable part of her time here during the summer. Like Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry, who last year became a resident of Rhode Island, Mrs. Astor has a particular fondness for this city. It is generally understood the moving millionaires object to the heavy personal taxes of New York.

All day yesterday a gang of men worked over the stock, and there is a pile of rubbish ten feet high, and choking the stock of Hayden & Lewis looks like a cross between a breakfast mush and a horse-collar pudding.

All day yesterday a gang of men worked over the stock, and there is a pile of rubbish ten feet high, and choking the stock may be undermenth the good stock may be undermenth the gass.

It looks as though a great heap of harness hard been melted in a giant caldron, and after being reduced to a gruel, poured down into the atore. Out of the great clogged pile stick collars and hames and buckles and straps.

There are shelves upon shelves of harness hardware dropping out of toxes whose pasteboard sides had melted in the wet. Under the force of the water much of this stock has scattered and rusted.

There are shelves upon shelves of harness hardware dropping out of toxes whose pasteboard sides had melted in the wet. Under the force of the water much of this stock has scattered and rusted.

There are handsome robes spelled and blotched, carved riding crops and built to display, and stands there still a water-soaked here of wood.

From the appearance of that part of Los Angeles street this would be taken for a temperance town.

When the fire engines went away they left four feet of water standing in the cellars. Yesterday a stationary engine was pumping neariy all the afternoon to get the water out.

The stock in that part of the building, after a perlious voyage all night, has stranded at last, owing to the efforts of the engine.

In the Newmark coffee house, next door, the store is one tumbling mass of coffee berries. There are sacks upon sacks, ripped open and all streaming coffee.

Men were working there all day long, with trucks, trying to get some order into the ruined mass. The coffee was smoking a little in the rear of the store, but the fire in the harness shop was quenched, to the last spark.

The labors of the workmen are carefully watched in both stores, and a policeman guards the sidewalk in front.

Grape-Nuts Set Them Right.

It is better to have a food epidemic in a family than an epidemic of sickness. A young lady out at Hibbing, Mina., tells about the way Grape-Nuts won her family. She says, "When recovering from typhoid fe ver my doctor ordered Grape-Nuts breakfast Food. I gained four pounds the first week, and, as the package was kept on the table for me, the whole family started to eat the new food.

We soon noticed a difference in my younger brother's face, which had been pale and bloodless, and who had been suffering from chronic inflammation of the riomach, in a short time he began to eat so heartily that we all remarked about it, and before long he got so he could eat anything without the least had effect.

We often eat Grape-Nuts dry as we would candy or nuts, and it has a richer taste than when soaked in water. The best way is to put on some good, rich cream. My sister found that after we began eating Grape-Nuts she had a much greater supply of milk for her babe. We have quit eating hot bread and meat for the evening meal, and take in place some nice Grape-Nuts, with cream; and a little fruit, and have all improved greatly in health.

Mr. McRensie gives a list of the grincipal papers in London and the provinces almost all of which use Hoe presses. He says: "No first-class daily or weekly paper now when laying down an entirely new plant would think of anything but American presses." "Before the engineers' strike, the rule of 'one man one machine' prevalled in British factories. With the modern automatic machine this means simply that the man has nothing to do the most of the time. Take, for instance, the automatic screw-turning machine. Here the only work of the man is to put in fresh steel bars, brush the steel shavings to one side, remove the screws and see that his machine is working properly. In America a man, paid perhaps 12 shillings a day, manages six or eight of these machines. In England, until recently, you were allowed to supervise only one. It is true that the worker here received only half the wage. But even this made our labor cost in England from three to four times as much as in America. Since the engineers' strike things have undoubtedly much improved. But masters here have not yet got full control of their own work-

Jacoby Bros.' stock consisted of many well known and renowned makes of shoes for men, women and children. We have told you repeatedly how we purchased their entire stock at a lump sum which enables us to reduce their prices a third to a half. The immense quantity of shoes sold during the past week has made little or no noticeable decrease in the size of the assortment. Their stock was immense. What we bought of them and what we had already purchased, added together, gives us $125,000 worth of good dependable shoes. This quantity is sufficient to shoe nearly every man, woman and child in Los Angeles. The inducements for today are as follows:

THE CASE OF CUBA

Arguments in Favor of Tariff Concessions.

Cuban Necessity and American Obligations.

The Chamber of Commerce of the Island of Cuba to Congress.

The following matter, relating to the proposed reduction of the tariff on Cuban products, is published by The Times, in accordance with its rule of giving an impartial hearing to both sides of a question. The views of The Times on this subject are well known, having been plainly and frequently stated in the editorial columns. They are that our duty to our own citizens should take precedence of any duty we owe to the Cubans, and that nothing should be done in this direction that would injure the great and rapidly-growing beet-sugar industry of the United States.

The matter presented herewith is contained in a pamphlet entitled "Argument in Support of the Cuban Petition for Tariff Concession, Submitted to the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives by the equal mutual advantage. We submit herewith such a plan in the form of a proposed law.

We know the needs and wishes of the Cuban people. They need access to the markets of the United States for the sale of their products. It is essential to their prosperity. They wish the sale of American products extended in Cuba. Under present conditions that is impossible. American sales in Cuba are decreasing. The reason is simple. Under a uniform tariff European products can be sold in Cuba for less than American products. Unless the United States secures a preferential tariff rate in Cuba in favor of American products. American merchants will be driven from the field. The plan we submit will promote the prosperity of Cuba and extend the market for American products. We respectfully request that this letter and plan be submitted for consideration to the distinguished body over which you preside.

THE PROPOSED LAW.

The law proposed by the Cubans is very brief. It is entitled "An Act to Promote the Prosperity of Cuba and Extending the Market for American Products." Following is the law:
Section 1. From and after the first day of January, 1902, Cuban molasses and raw sugar, up to No. 18 of the Dutch standard, shall be admitted into the United States free, and all other Cuban products upon the payment of one-half the rates of duties levied and collected under the tariff laws of the United States upon similar products of the most favored nation; provided the people of Cuba comply with the following condition:

Sec. 2. The people of Cuba shall consent that from and after the first day of January, 1902, all products of the United States shall be admitted into Cuba upon the payment of one-half the rates of duty levied and collected under the tariff laws of Cuba upon similar products of the most favored nation. Whenever the Military Governor of Cuba shall report to the President of the United States that the people of Cuba have given such consent the Fresident for the United States that the people of Cuba have given such consent the Fresident shall by proclamation declare that the rates of duties provided for in this act shall take effect in the United States and in Cuba from and after the first day of January, 1902.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

THE ARGUMENT.

Following is the argument of the Cuban Chamber of Commerce, signed by Mr. Pavey, as counsel, and dated January 6, 1902:

The Cubans base their petition to Congress upon two propositions:

First—The United States is undermoral obligation to aid Cuba in the re-[Message of the President December 2, 1901.

REASONS FOR A SPECIAL ACT.

The urgency of immediate relief is the reason for the petition for a special act. The proposed law has been suggested by reason of its certainty and facility in affording immediate relief to Caba upon a basis of advantage to the United States.

The usual method of fixing the basis of trade relations between two countries is the negotiation of a commercial treaty to be ratified by their governments. The objection which the Cubans make to this method is that it is too slow to meet the necessities of their present situation. The Constitutions Convention has framed and adopted a Constitution for Cuba and ratified the Platt amendment defining the relations which will exist between Cuba and the United States. In pursuance of the Constitution an election has been field on December 31, 1901, for the cholee of Presidential and Senatorial electors, members of the House of Representatives, Governors of provincial councills. Another election will be held on February 24, 1902, for the election of a President, Vice-President and Senators. The officials so elected must then be installed in office. The date of the inauguration of the new your remment has not yet been fixed. An interval of two months between the united States will fulfill its proving the relations to the united States will refuse the condition of Cuba in the United States and the listant in pursuance of the Constitution of the date of the inauguration of the new your content of the condition of the state of the inauguration of the new your condition and industry the condition of the date of the inauguration of the men of the condition of the states will related the provincial countries. The official so elected must then be installed in office. The date of the inauguration of the men of the propose of the condition of the propose of the constitution of the condition of the propose of the constitution of the condition of the then be installed in office. The date of the inauguration of the new government has not yet been fixed. An interval of two months between the election and inauguration is not an unreasonable allowance of time. This means that the negotiation of a treaty of commerce between the governments of Cuba and the United States cannot be commenced before May 1, 1962.

A period of three or four months will be easily consumed in the negotiation of such a treaty. It will be necessary for this treaty to be submitted to the Senate of the United States for the advice and consent of that body to its ratification and to the House of Representatives for its approval. If these steps are all taken with the utmost speed reasonably possible, the negotiation and ratification of a treaty will not be concluded during the present season of Congress. The final decision will be postponed until the meeting of Congress in the month of December, 1902. By reason of these necessary delays a commercial treaty between the United States and Cuba cannot go into practical effect prior to the first day of February, 1902.

It has been suggested that this time can be shortened by the passage of an act making reductions in the American traiff on sugar products to take effect when the Cuban government shall grant similar concessions in the Cuban tariff on American products. If the Cuban government were actually established, there would be no serious objections to this proposition. But the Cuban government will be established, there would be no serious objections to this proposition. But the Cuban government will be established, there would be no serious objections to this proposition. But the Cuban government will be established therefore, that Congress shall pass a special act to take effect at once.

ADVANTAGE OF A SPECIAL ACT. This law proposed by the Cubans

ADVANTAGE OF A SPECIAL ACT.

This law proposed by the Cubans has the merit of certainty. It will give definite relief in the immediate future. On the face of the act, the only question of uncertainty is whether the Cuban people will give their consent to the arrangement. The determination of this question is left to the Military Governor of the Island of Cuba. The act contains no suggestion as to how he shall ascertain the consent of the people of Cuba. That is left to his discretion. It can properly be so left. He has sufficient means of determining the sentiment of the Cuban people on this subject. He knows the absolutely unanimous support which the commercial and industrial organizations of the island have given to the petition of the Cuban Commissioners, He has conducted official inquiries ADVANTAGE OF A SPECIAL ACT.

that the United States will fulfill its promise to withdraw from the Island of Cuba if the people of Cuba will permit the United States to maintain naval stations on their coasts and interfere in certain contingencies in their internal affairs. As a precedent for making both ends of a political and territorial bargain between the United States and Cuba by Congressional action it is sufficiently strong to justify an act making both ends of a commercial and industrial bargain. If foreign governments object to the arrangement it would appear to be a sufficient answer to suggest that if they will accept a Platt amendment and grant to the United States naval stations on their coasts, with the same rights of interference in their internal affairs which have been conceded by Cuba, they shall enjoy the same commercial advantages granted to Cuba by the United States.

Cuba, they shall enjoy the same commercial advantages granted to Cuba by the United States.

THE BENEFIT TO THE UNITED STATES.

The important question is whether the proposed plan will benefit or injure American interests. In determining this question no single American industry is solely entitled to consideration. The greatest good of the greatest number of Americans ought to be the test. If it can be shown that this plan will result in great benefit to American business in general without serious injury to any existing industry, it ought to be supported. That result ought to be supported. The passage of the act even if it cause some diespopointment to men engaged in one industry in their anticipations of the future development of their business and deprive them of the advantage of holding the American market for their particular product free from a new competitor.

Cuba exports practically everything which she produces, and imports practically everything which she consumes. Her two great staple products are sugar and tobacco. They are the foundation of her commerce and industry. They are ber chief articles of export. Practically, her entire crops are exported. The local consumption of sugar and tobacco is a small factor in the total production. In all other products her position is reversed. Everything consumed by the Cubans, except sugar, tobacco and tropical fruits, must be imported. If the United

Because of the strong opposition to the blanket franchise of the Los Angeles Railway Company, Attorney W. E. Dunn yesterday submitted to the Board of Public Works an amendment which is equivalent to a new application. In this so-called amendment are seventeen blocks which were not covered by the original franchise route. All that portion of the blanket franchise that paralleled the tracks of the Traction Railway Company in the southwestern portion of the city has been dropped out.

About sixty petitions relative to street-improvement work were passed upon by the Board of Public Works yesterday; but all of them were of little importance. To the Alcatras Asphalt Paving Company was awarded the contract for the paving of Seventh street from Main to Figueroa street. NEGLECT DEFINED.

"Divorse may be granted for willful neglect, /but," in the words of our Supreme Court, 'the neglect must be such as leaves the wife destitute but for the charity of others; if those common necessaries are provided by the earnings of the wife, there is no such willful neglect as is contemplated by the statute."

In other words, a wife, with an idle husband who never interferes with the disposition of moneys earned by her and sufficient for her support, is without ground for divorce so far as neglect is concerned.

POOR COUPLES SHOULD WORK.

POOR COUPLES SHOULD WORK.

"The marriage relation," says Judge York, "notwithstanding the above provisions of our code and the cases cited, presupposes a home and the raising of children. The husband, under the provisions of section 156 of the Civil Code, is the head of the family and may choose any reasonable place or mode of living, and it is the duty of the wife to conform thereto. While it is the duty of the wife, as well as the husband to work, when both are able to work and both are poor, it is the duty of the husband to provide his wife with a home, if able. It is her right to live with him in that home.

a wife of an idle husband. Equally does the court's sympathy go out to a man who has an idle wife. But be she ever so idle, he cannot obtain a divorce from her upon that ground. Idlehess is a prolific field for evil. It is defenseless against vice. The idle are the willing victims of proffigsey and dissipation. Seifishly does idleness fatten upon the fruits of others' labor. Victously, carelessly, even contemptuously, it brings shame to the honorable, earnest and aggressive. Idleness cannot be too severely condemned. The woman with an idle wife, the parent with an idle child, are subjects for our commiseration; but for idleness alone, how much sever we may condemn it, we can not divorce the wife from the husband any more than we can divorce the husband from the wife, or the parent from the child. The only divorce that can be given resulting from the views. parent from the child. The only divorce that can be given resulting from idleness is to the wife, and that divorce is not for the idleness of the husband, but for a condition resulting from idleness, namely, a failure on the part of the husband, because of his idleness, to give to the wife that support which the law requires him to coverture, asserts her equality with man. We applaud her. She becomes a doctor, a minister or a lawyer; she takes her place with authors, college professors and scientists; she becomes a farmer, a mechanic, and even a navigator. In all these walks of life she has shown her ability to cope with men. The time has arrived when we should look suspiciously upon her claim to support from an idle husband when she is healthy and childless, and more than his equal in the battle of life. It is not argued, and cannot be argued with reason, that a woman should have a divorce because her husband is idle; only for his failure to support her because of idleness. But, behold a woman in her new sphere-self-reliant, aggressive, strenuous, independent. It is a fiction to say that such a woman relies upon a worthless husband for support, or that she appeals to the court for a separation for non-support. She does not expect, she does not want it. She wants to be rid of a worthless husband, and willful neglect is a pretext. Her marriage was unwise; she has tired of it. Casting about for a ground of divorce, she concludes that willful neglect affords her a remedy, and the woman who would resent the imputation of being dependent upon her husband for support sues him for a divorce because Se does not support her. Such, cases allege one thing and mean another.

MANY GROUNDLESS SUITS.

"While we have not got away from the chivalric feeling that woman should depend upon man, and be protected and cared for by him, and while we condemn the man who falls short of this obligation, we have to say that marriage cannot be dissolved because of his unchivairic and unmanly conduct in this respect. The grounds given in the code are the only grounds, and fallure to observe the distinction between idleness and neglect caused by idleness, has been the cause of the bringing of many a groundless divores suit. Divorce laws were not made to relieve in all cases of unhappy marriages. The courts can exercise no guardianship over adult persons who have their

HIGHLAND, Jan. 17.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The rainfall for the season has been less than 2 inches, and, although irrigators are putting every available drop of water into the ground, the question of a supply for the coming summer is a leading topic. It is stated that the electric power which Dr. Baidwin proposed to bring here from Mill Creek for pumping purposes has been contracted for elsewhere, where a continuous market was found. The Arrowhead Reservoir Company is planning for the delivery of water to the High-head Reservoir Company is planning for the delivery of water to the High-land district, a surveying party be-ing now in the field making a detailed topographical survey and maps of all that portion lying above the North Fork ditch and below a line 1800 feet above sea level. above sea level. This comprises practically all the tiliable land above the North Fork system. Water brought on the 1800-foot level could be put in the present Plunge Creek ditch at the mouth of the cañon or into the North Fork ditch at the same point, thus putting Highland under the two storage reservoir systems of the San Bernardino range and solving the water problem—provided it rains.

It is also the intention of the Arrowhead company to establish an electric plant for the development of power at the point where its tunnel brings the water through the range and drops it down the southern slope for distribution among the various prospective ditches. As pewer would be generated only during the delivery of water for irrigation, the company would be compelled to seek a market among those needing power at that time. In other words, when the Arrowhead company has water ready for the irrigators, it will also be in position to supply power for those who prefer to pump, thus doubling the amount of water which may be had at a reasonable figure. This, of course, cannot be accomplished before another year.

The orange crop is moving slowly, the highest figure offered by buyers being about $1.90 per packed box f.o.b. for fancy regulars size navels and 50 cents less for choice and off sizes.

LOMPOC BREVITIES.

Rain is needed just at present, and farmers are putting their land into condition to receive the downpour looked for next month. Cattlemen, with overstocked ranges, are becoming anxious, and though the pastures adjacent to the valley are still good, the coast south of Point Arguella has already assumed the dead-brown appearance of midsummer, and dairymen are feeding hay. Such a season points to the folly of allowing the waters of the Santa Yase to flow unused into the ocean.

RIVERSIDE. Jan. 17.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The barn in the rear of R. W. A. Godfrey's handsome residence, Somerset Grove, on Massachusetts avenue, was burned about 11 o'clock this morning, together with most of its contents. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Mr. Godfrey and sons were down town, when Mrs. Tyler Godfrey's attention was attracted by the neighing of the pony in the farm. Looking out she saw the building ablaze. She called her mother-in-law, Mrs. R. W. A. Godfrey, and the two laddes, by heroic effort, succeeded in rescuing the ponies and a new phacton from the fiames. They had scarcely got outside the biasing structure before the roof fell in. Everything else in the building, including several sets of harness, was destroyed. There was some insurance, but the principal loss will fall on the old bearing orange trees, which for many feet surrounding the barn were killed or badly burned. The neighbors came to the rescue, and by efficient work succeeded in preventing the fiames from spreading to the residence.

Lively Fight Over Serving of Wine

"Now, I have no doubt that from the company's standpoint the plan is a fair one, but it is hard to make the farmer think so. For the average place of ten acress a well of, say, seven inches' diameter would be required. Such a well would cost about $60. And the electric motor and other apparatus for it would cost about $60. If, instead of a seven-inch well, a twelve-inch well were put down at an expense of about $50. enough water could be pumped from it to supply six ten-acre pieces.

"If the company would contract with the farmers about here to pump all the water needed for, say, $7.50 per acre per year, instead of on a horse-power basis, I am sure the proposition would be much more readily compreheded and much sooner accepted. A skyt-acre piece could be abundantly watered from a tweive-inch well. With the apparatus in order, the farmers could be trusted to operate the motor with very little attention from the company's representative. No farmer is going to use any more water on his land than is needed, for the surplus water would importish the soil. There would be little risk of the water being used without the company's knowledge on other lands than those contracted for, because any person so using it would be criminally liable.

"Averaged up, the profits of alfalfa, taking one year with another, will not run much above $15 per acre per year, after deducting the expenses other than irrigating. It is true that land set out to strawberries yields much larger returns per year, but after these years of producing strawberries the land must have a rest.

"On the horse-power basis which is offered, the cost of irrigation would be not far from $15 per acre per year. The competition of gasoline pumping plants makes that rate scarcely acceptable. If the farmers were offered a rate of $1.50 per acre per year. The competition of gasoline pumping the benefit of all the rainy periods that there might be. The farmer would be giad to pay the power company to guarantee the water service during the dry periods."

SANTA MONICA. Jan. 17.—[From The Times' Correspondent.] A curious specimen of marine growth was taken about ten miles out at sea, Tuesday. Fish, in Trying to Escape, Wraps Line Consults With Members Sick Eight Years with Female Trouble and Pinally Oured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The already enviable record of Mrs. Pinkham's great medicine becomes more and more glorious every day, and how the glad tidings are spread among women from the Atlantic to the Pacific is told in such letters as the one from Mrs. O'Donnell here published.

Mrs. O'Donnell here published.

The troubles to which women are subject because of their sex are many,—every day a woman is liable to a new pain. Excessive worry may disturb the menstrual functions and unsettle the nerves. Over-excitement may set up inflammation of the ovaries and womb, but wherever or whatever the trouble is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sure to find and cure it. Read Mrs. O'Donnell's letter and try to realise that such generous testimony is not to be had for money, or any monetary consideration; it is purely out of the goodness of her heart and gratitude for her own cure that by this act she is endeavoring to lead other women to health and happiness.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for advice. Address Lyrn, Mass., giving full particulars.

MRS. JENNIE E. O'DONNELL.

MRS. JENNIE E. O'DONNELL.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkhan:—I have never in my life given what you would eall a testimonial before, but you have done so much for me that I feel called upon to give you this unsolicited acknowledgement of the wonderful curative value of Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For eight long years I had female trouble, falling of the womb and other complications. During that time I was more or less of an invalid and not much good for anything. Four years ago I noticed a book in the hall telling of the cures you could perform. I read it and became interested, I bought a bottle of Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was helped, and decided to use it for a year, but seven months sufficed to cure me, and since that time I have simply had perfect health. Thanks, dear Mrs. Pinkham again, health such as I now enjoy is worth all that and more."—Mrs. Jankie O'Donnell, 278 East 31st St., Chicago, Ill.

Surely such endorsement should dispel doubt from the minds of all hesitating women. After reading such a letter, if any woman is willing to remain sick, we can only say it is her own fault and she deserves to suffer; for the medicine that cured Mrs. O'Donnell and a hundred thousand others will surely cure her.

the delivery of 50,000 barrels of oil at 35 cents a barrel.

The price named is the highest obtained since the slump in the field last spring, and this important fact is accepted as an indication that the turning point has been reached. The combine believes it is entitled to much of the credit in bringing about the advance of prices; and as evidence of the value of the pool, it is stated that the buyer named in the contract is an oid customer of one of the companies making up the Associated Oil Company. This customer has heretofore been served with oil at the rate of 15 cents a barrel, the customer having been able to get oil at that figure by reason of the fact that the producers who have consolidated their interests and efforts, were then fighting each other for trade. Producers of the morthern field are much more hopeful than they have been in months, because they are confident that the market is expanding. That the railronds are daily becoming heavier consumers is evident, and if the effort to educate the owners of steamables is successful the demand for oil in that field will greatly swell the total.

BAKERSPIELD. Jan. 17.—The Californian today says:

"The theory advanced by Marius Duvai and other oil experts that the oil discoveries in Kern River on one side and McKittrick and Sunset on the other are but the outcroppings in the rim of a vast oil basin, underlying the Southern San Joaquin Valley, is to be put to the test. A well is to be sunk at the cowest point of the valley, and to such a depth that the correctness or incorrectness of the theory will be proved beyond a question.

"The Grand Oil Company of Reno, Nev. has secured territory in what was formerly the awamp between Kern and Busna Vista lakes, and is now moving its machinery on the holdings with the view of beginning the work of sinking a well there. They will go 300 feet deep if necessary. The proceedings will be watched with much interest by oil producers."

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1

SAN DIEGO, Jan. II.—Considerable excitement is being felt here over the report that oil has been struck in a well eight miles south of the city. It is true that oil has been found, and, it is said, the indications are promising that a good and prolific body of oil sand has been tapped.

The well is that of the Chuia Vista Oil Company. The drill is now working at a depth of 500 feet, and the formation is blue clay, which carries traces of oil. It is thought by Expert J. H. Delamonte of Los Angeles, who is behind the proposition, that the oil is seeping up from deposits below, and that when the drill has gone a few feet more, a large body of oil sand will be found. The strike is of especial importance, as it is the first find of oil in the bay-district.

They will so 300 feet deep if necessary. The proceedings will be watched with much interest by oil producers."

TO PROSPECT TO NORTHWEST.

The agitation to extend the Kern River field to the northwest still lingers, although it is not so active as it was before a number of ventures resulted in a failure to find oil in quantities that would be of commercial importance. Funds have been raised, however, by the People's, Mutual for the propose of drilling on section 19, 27, three miles north of Paso Creek and eight miles from a producing well.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The average grade of fuel oil finds a market in the local field at from 10 to 60 cents a barrel. Oil under fourteen gravity is sold from 40 to 50 cents a barrel at the wells.
